EXPLANATION

In this list the figure and letter placed after the pronunciation of each name (as F-8, b-26, etc.) refer to its location on one or more of the following Rand McNally large-scale War Maps:

1. British Battle Front — from Ostend to St. Quentin. Scale, 4 miles to 1 inch.

2. French Battle Front — from St. Quentin to St. Mihiel. Scale, 4 miles to 1 inch.

3. French-American Battle Front — from St. Mihiel to the Swiss border. Scale, 4 miles to 1 inch.

5. The Italian Battle Front — showing the entire Italian war section. Scale, 6 miles to 1 inch.

Size of maps 22x32 inches
Price, 25 cents each

HINTS TO PRONUNCIATION

French

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| a | =a | in fat | — Ablis[1] (a bli′) |
| am[2] | =en | in encore | — Cambrai (kong breh′) |
| an[2] | =en | in encore | — Nancy (nong si′) |
| e[3] | =e | in wander | — Benay (buh nay′) |
| e[4] | =e | in eddy | — Betval (bet val′) |
| é | =a | in fate | — Longwé (long vay′) / Épinal (ay pi nal′) |
| è | =e | in where | — Gruyères (grwee yehr′) |
| en[2] | =en | in encore | — Bazien (ba zi ong′) / Senlis (song li′) |
| i | =i | in pin | — Vicq (vik) / Rioz (ri oh′) |
| in | =an | in anxious | — Vincey (vang say′) / Revin (ruh vang′) |
| on[2] | =on | in song | — Romont (ro mong′) / Salon (sa long′) |
| un | =un | in sung | — Verdun (vehr dung′) |
| u[5] | =German ue | | — Sulpice (sweel pis′) |
| y | =i | in pin | — Sivry (si vri′) / Flagy (fla zhi′) |
| ai | =e | in eh | — Frais (freh) / Roubaix (roo beh′) |
| ain | =an | in anxious | — Ablain (a blang′) / Sains (sang) |

[1] Final consonants are usually silent, except c, f, l, and r.

[2] After a vowel, m and n, when either final or followed by a consonant which is neither m nor n, have a nasal sound very like that of n in encore, but somewhat less distinct.

[3] e unaccented, if final, is mute; elsewhere it is obscure, as in wander, except as in Note 4.

[4] When unaccented, and before a consonant in the same syllable.

[5] The French u represents a sound unknown in English—perhaps most readily produced by bringing the lips in position for oo and then pronouncing ee. The sound is here represented by wee.

| th | =t | in time | — Thann (tahn) |

1 At the end of a syllable or before an h in the same syllable.

2 Except as in 1.

3 To produce this sound bring the lips in position for oo and then pronounce ee, as for French u.

4 There is no equivalent in English or French for the German gutteral ch. It is pronounced half-way between sh and k and is here represented by kh.

5 When the final letter of a word or syllable, d is pronounced like t.

6 Not a full v, but a combination of w and v.
